

Question Holt on Mother's Death

HOPE, (UP)—Massachusetts authorities said today they are questioning the mother of a child who died in a fire at a hotel in Boston last night.

The child, a 10-month-old boy, was found dead in a room at the Hotel Commonwealth last night. The fire broke out in the room at about 11 p.m. and the child was found dead in a bed.

The mother, Mrs. Mary J. Holt, was taken to the hospital and is now recovering from her injuries. She was found unconscious in the hallway of the hotel.

The fire was caused by a gas stove in the room. The child was found in a bed next to the stove.

The fire department is still investigating the cause of the fire. The mother is being held in custody.

Harriman and Kerr Visit Stevenson

CHICAGO, (UP)—Two men who put their best efforts, plus a lot of time and money, into trying to win the Democratic presidential nomination, yesterday called on the man who didn't want it and got it anyway.

Averell Harriman, Mutual Security Administrator, and Sen. Hubert H. Kerr of Oklahoma paid a surprise visit to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and came away expressing their support of the new Democratic standard-bearer.

Harriman met with Stevenson in "Blair House," the near north side home of William Blair McCombs, who is a member of the governor's executive staff, before leaving for New York.

The lanky millionaire told Stevenson he discussed "the whole situation" with Stevenson. He declined to give details.

"I'm going to help in every way I can with everything I've got," Harriman said.

Kerr, another millionaire who aspired to the presidency, swapped his support for Stevenson for a seat on the Illinois State Board of Agriculture and on a fishing trip.

He said he promised to campaign for Stevenson and would be in the state during the "lame" session.

Eight men, including members from both groups, were hurt in the outbreak Monday, when some AFL men, forced their way into the plant.

The AFL withdrawal promise came at the request of state Labor Commissioner Thomas R. Hutson, who suggested "violence might mean martial law."

Gov. Henry E. Schricker also asked the AFL operating engineers to get away from the plant. The pickets are CIO United Auto Workers, a union which is official bargaining agent for the workers.

Arthur Ingles, a federal conciliator, talked with both management and CIO representatives Tuesday and reported no progress toward a strike settlement. He said he hopes to get both sides together in a meeting Friday.

The strike for higher wages and union shop stopped construction of the main plant—a 10-million-dollar project.

Steel Settlement to Cost Every Family $102

WASHINGTON (UP)—Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall predicts the new steel price boost will cost the average American family about $102 a year in higher prices.

Arnall said in a television (NBC) interview that the $5.20 per cwt. price boost he signed reluctantly yesterday would launch off a new round of inflation.

He made it clear the steel price increase was not his own choice, but was ordered by the Federal Reserve Board. Arnall said last night it was "a very, very bitter pill for me."

Earlier in the day price control officials had said the price increase was almost certain to climb even higher because of "inevitable increases" in some major industries.

A top official said the higher steel prices would mean a 10 percent increase in the price of many other goods.

The government is to hold the line-price policy and center of the economy for a complete revision of stabilization standards.

This decision, however, probably will put in a price freeze on the return to Washington Aug. 5. Any drastic changes probably will wait until after the president's return.

Some of Arnall's close associates said the price increase was a "bitter pill" to swallow.

Arnall was reluctant to discuss the new policies he considered, but he said the situation in the steel industry was "a very serious one."

He said the price increase was a "bitter pill" to swallow.

Wetbacks Are Turned Back Into Mexico

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—A state crackdown on new groups of Mexican wetbacks was credited today with sending upward of 25,000 illegal immigrants back to Mexico during the past 24 hours.

The crackdown came yesterday as a task force of U. S. border patrolmen swept through the lower Rio Grande Valley, gathering Mexican immigrants.

The border patrolmen took about three hours to surround the largest group of wetbacks taken into custody in the past several years.

In a normal day the patrol takes custody and ships them back to Mexico. Yesterday's effort was an all-out movement to halt the recent building of Mexican nationalities in the valley.

John W. Holland, director of Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Antonio, said the wetbacks were being turned back to Mexico by train while others were walked across the Rio Grande bridge and turned over to Mexican authorities.

MacArthur Takes Arms Co. Position

NEW YORK (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was elected chairman of the board of Remington Rand Inc. today.

The announcement was made by James H. Rand, president, at a luncheon at which the 13 other board members and company executives met.

MacArthur, who has been serving as an unpaid chairman, will continue as chairman of the board.

Formal election of the five-year term took place at an organizational meeting of the board this morning.

MacArthur's election was the company's first since he took over as chairman in 1948.

Reports of the offer at that time had been denied by MacArthur. He said the election was in the neighborhood of 100,000 a year. Those reports were based on a misunderstanding.

Remington Rand employs 30,000 persons in 22 American plants and 100 factories were crossing the U. S. border.

MacArthur's election was the company's first since he took over as chairman in 1948.

The mother of the child, Mrs. Mary J. Holt, is being questioned by Boston police. She is being held in custody.

Holt is being questioned about the fire and the death of her child. She is being held in custody until further notice.

Record Vote at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (UP)—Chancellor Francis Cherry's homecoming residence cast a record number of votes yesterday in the Democratic primary, in which Judge Cherry placed second.

The 1950 record total of 3,141 votes was broken by the 3,411 votes cast for Cherry in the Democratic primary. The 1950 record was set in the Democratic primary when Cherry received 2,800 votes.

Cherry's record vote was a result of his homecoming and the support of his friends and neighbors. He received a record number of votes in the Democratic primary.

Harriman and Kerr Visit Stevenson

CHICAGO, (UP)—Two men who put their best efforts, plus a lot of time and money, into trying to win the Democratic presidential nomination, yesterday called on the man who didn't want it and got it anyway.

Averell Harriman, Mutual Security Administrator, and Sen. Hubert H. Kerr of Oklahoma paid a surprise visit to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and came away expressing their support of the new Democratic standard-bearer.

Harriman met with Stevenson in "Blair House," the near north side home of William Blair McCombs, who is a member of the governor's executive staff, before leaving for New York.

The lanky millionaire told Stevenson he discussed "the whole situation" with Stevenson. He discussed the situation with Stevenson and came away expressing his support of the new Democratic standard-bearer.

Governor or Cabinet Is Sid Running for?

Governor Sid McMath apparently has his politics fixed so he will not run for Governor.

Before the preferential primary last Tuesday it was our understanding the governor's main goal in life was to beat Senator John L. McClellan in 1954, and he wanted to get both sides together in a meeting Friday.

The strike for Friday would have been a disaster to the state machine at his back in 1954.

But now, after his disastrous showing last Tuesday, and facing a hostile vote August 12 which will be the last vote he will cast for Governor, it appears Governor McMath anticipated something like this and did not want a second deal up his sleeve.

Remember all those Washington trips of the governor? And how Harry S. Truman himself came down to Arkansas and pulled Sid out of the gutter? Well, it seems there were some practical political plans for the Little Rock-Washington business on September 8.

Steel Settlement to Cost Every Family $102

By WILLIAM O. VARN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall predicts the new steel price boost will cost the average American family about $102 a year in higher prices.

Arnall said in a television (NBC) interview that the $5.20 per cwt. price boost he signed reluctantly yesterday would launch off a new round of inflation.

He made it clear the steel price increase was not his own choice, but was ordered by the Federal Reserve Board. Arnall said last night it was "a very, very bitter pill for me."

Earlier in the day price control officials had said the price increase was almost certain to climb even higher because of "inevitable increases" in some major industries.

A top official said the higher steel prices would mean higher prices for the government to keep its hold-the-line price policy and center of the economy for a complete revision of stabilization standards.

This decision, however, probably will put in a complete revision of the steel price policy.

In addition to loans, cotton producers may obtain purchase agreements on their cotton whereby the government agrees to purchase a designated amount of the cotton at the loan rate if the producer does not sell it prior to the close of the loan period. Under this agreement, the producer signs a certain amount of cotton to be sold to the government at a price of 10 cents per pound. The government will buy the cotton at a price of 10 cents per pound.

Price Support Program Is Discussed

Operating details of the 1952 cotton price support program will be discussed by County Committee members and office employees of the Production and Marketing Administration from 11 counties in a two-day meeting here today.

The sessions are being held at Hope, with B. E. McMahon PMA District Supervisor presiding.

Changes have been made in the cotton loan program this year. Mr. McMahon said to make it more easily accessible to producers should they decide to pay off their loans or to use the cotton for other purposes. Under this year's program, cotton loan papers will remain in the hands of the producer until they are sold to the government.

am mindful of the fact that many of you have said "I thought in voters just recently elected you and by an overwhelming majority." So an explanation seems in order. I was overwhelmingly elected for a second term but soon after my election the new Federal aid figures were announced and it was discovered that Southwest Arkansas had lost so much in population that it became necessary for the Supreme Court to redistrict our State. When the State is redivided the terms of the recently elected senators are literally "cut off." This happened in seventeen (17) of Arkansas' thirty-five (35) State Senators. But Crow happened to be the only one in this part of the State that suffered this "cut off." In fact every neighboring Senator got to re-elect for another term for which he was elected.

Yes a double race is expensive but it is a man's duty to do it. I have been elected to the Arkansas Senate long enough to get enough seniority to make the voice of the citizens of our part of the State heard.

In preparing myself to render the most valuable service within my power I pursued the study of law, obtained the LL.B. degree from the University of Arkansas, and I now hold some of the most important committee appointments. Such as Chairman of the Temperance Committee, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to liquor is considered, Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Practice of Medicine, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to the practice of the healing professions, dentistry, optometry, chiropody, barbers, beauty culture, Veterinary Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and the Drug business is considered. Member of the committees on Forestry, Mines and Mining, State Charitable Institutions, a Judiciary Committee, one of the Senate's most important Committees, one that only licensed lawyers may serve on. And the Constitutional Amendment Committee—considered by many as the most elevated committee appointment.

The largest business in Arkansas is the State of Arkansas. Millions of dollars are collected and spent by the State. In advocating economy instead of increasing tax as I have found myself in the minority many times but I refuse to become discouraged.

While opposing such tax increases as the sales tax and working with other big figures I have never lost sight of the needs of the ordinary, the blind, and the poor. I have tried to keep my feet on the ground and to keep a day welfare check. That is the reason I just couldn't vote for the bill that would have placed a lien on the property owned now or hereafter by the poor and the needy. I couldn't be for it even after the Eastern Arkansas Senator put Amendment No. 3 on that would have made the law apply to real property that was appraised at $1,000 or more. I feared the appraisers and land and house speculators would watch with joy and glee when an old fellow took to his death bed and that every county would have its key speculators that would "stand in" with the big boys and who knows—their covetous designs might some day be cast toward my little cottage—none can get so high but what he naps tall.

I have voted for every appropriation designed to promote the education of our children. Being a member of a healing profession I have long felt that suffering humanity should have every aid science has to offer. I took a leading part in promoting legislation that is making Arkansas' Medical School merit such appraisal as one noted medical educator accorded recently when he stated that "Arkansas now has one of the outstanding medical schools in the western world." And I cannot keep from pointing with pride to the bill that I introduced and pressed to enactment that authorized the creation of the School of Pharmacy by the University of Arkansas.

It has been my privilege to work in behalf of the citizenry in securing the $100,000 appropriations for building the third district live stock exhibition buildings. All this in addition to the annual permanent funds for each of our counties running into many thousands of dollars.

Many Hempstead County citizens will remember that a twenty year battle was waged for a National Guard Armory in the county. It was only after holding up the military dept. appropriation bill that I was able to obtain a written promise from the Adjutant General that when fulfilled built for us the Armory at a cost far above $100,000.

I sponsored an amendment to a house bill that gives the Hope City Council power to use in various ways funds collected by the parking meters for the benefit of the motorists. This law gave the council power to repave the streets of Hope—surely no one will complain of our newly repaved streets.

I believe we should stick to the principle of the fathers of our country and keep the Legislative branch separate and apart from the Executive branch. I was greatly disappointed when I read that the Associated Press classified me as an "independent" Senator. That is a great

V-P Nominee, Nixon, Visits Little Rock

That is the reason I just couldn't vote for the bill that would have placed a lien on the property owned now or hereafter by the poor and the needy. I couldn't be for it even after the Eastern Arkansas Senator put Amendment No. 3 on that would have made the law apply to real property that was appraised at $1,000 or more. I feared the appraisers and land and house speculators would watch with joy and glee when an old fellow took to his death bed and that every county would have its key speculators that would "stand in" with the big boys and who knows—their covetous designs might some day be cast toward my little cottage—none can get so high but what he naps tall.

I have voted for every appropriation designed to promote the education of our children. Being a member of a healing profession I have long felt that suffering humanity should have every aid science has to offer. I took a leading part in promoting legislation that is making Arkansas' Medical School merit such appraisal as one noted medical educator accorded recently when he stated that "Arkansas now has one of the outstanding medical schools in the western world." And I cannot keep from pointing with pride to the bill that I introduced and pressed to enactment that authorized the creation of the School of Pharmacy by the University of Arkansas.

It has been my privilege to work in behalf of the citizenry in securing the $100,000 appropriations for building the third district live stock exhibition buildings. All this in addition to the annual permanent funds for each of our counties running into many thousands of dollars.

Many Hempstead County citizens will remember that a twenty year battle was waged for a National Guard Armory in the county. It was only after holding up the military dept. appropriation bill that I was able to obtain a written promise from the Adjutant General that when fulfilled built for us the Armory at a cost far above $100,000.

I sponsored an amendment to a house bill that gives the Hope City Council power to use in various ways funds collected by the parking meters for the benefit of the motorists. This law gave the council power to repave the streets of Hope—surely no one will complain of our newly repaved streets.

I believe we should stick to the principle of the fathers of our country and keep the Legislative branch separate and apart from the Executive branch. I was greatly disappointed when I read that the Associated Press classified me as an "independent" Senator. That is a great

Final Rites for Senator Held Today

NORWALK, Conn. (UP)—Sen. Brian McMahon, architect of the nation's atomic energy program, was buried today beside his father's grave in St. Mary's cemetery.

The body of the 48-year-old chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee was taken to the family plot following double funeral services at the home of his brother and St. Thomas of the Apostles Church.

Vice President Allen Barkley, a close personal friend of McMahon, headed a large congressional delegation which attended the final rites.

President Truman was represented by Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin.

Religious ceremonies were performed by Francis Cardinal Spellman, Bishop of New York, and the Rev. Henry E. Flanagan, pastor of the church.

Hundreds of persons from all walks of life said goodbye to McMahon, a native of this town, who died of cancer Monday in Georgetown University hospital in Washington.

Friends said McMahon apparently never knew he had cancer, the disease he hoped that atomic energy would some day cure. His condition at first was described as a "benign condition," believed caused when he "reached" for a ball while playing tennis.

Death came to the senator shortly after he watched the Democratic National Convention on television from his hospital bed. He saw his fellow Connecticut senator, Benton, make what appeared to be a nominating speech for him. However, Benton withdrew McMahon's name at his request, at the end of the heart-stirring speech.

am mindful of the fact that many of you have said "I thought in voters just recently elected you, and by an overwhelming majority." So an explanation seems in order. I was overwhelmingly elected for a second term but soon after my election the new Federal aid figures were announced and it was discovered that Southwest Arkansas had lost so much in population that it became necessary for the Supreme Court to redistrict the State. When the State is redivided the terms of the recently elected senators are literally "cut off." This happened in seventeen (17) of Arkansas' thirty-five (35) State Senators. But Crow happened to be the only one in this part of the State that suffered this "cut off." In fact every neighboring Senator got to re-elect himself for the term for which he was elected. Yes a double race is expensive but it is a man's duty to do it. I have been elected to the Arkansas Senate long enough to get enough seniority to make the voice of the citizens of our part of the State heard. In preparing myself to render the most valuable service within my power I pursued the study of law, obtained the LL.B. degree, any State and Federal Law license. I now hold some of the most important committee appointments. Such as Chairman of the Temperance Committee, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to liquor is considered, Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Practice of Medicine, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to the practice of the healing professions, dentistry, optometry, chiropody, barbers, beauty culture, Veterinary Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and the drug business is considered. Member of the committees on Forestry, Mines and Mining, State Charitable Institutions, a Judiciary Committee, one of the State's most important Committees, one that only licensed lawyers may serve on. And the Constitutional Amendment Committee—considered by many as the most coveted committee appointment.

The largest business in Arkansas is the State of Arkansas. Millions of dollars are collected and spent by the State. In advocating economy instead of increasing tax as I have found myself in the minority many times but I refuse to become discouraged. While opposing such tax increases as the sales tax and working with other big figures I have never lost sight of the needs of the ordinary, the blind, and the poor. I have tried to keep my feet on the ground and to keep a day welfare check. That is the reason I just couldn't vote for the bill that would have placed a lien on the property owned now or hereafter by the poor and the needy. I couldn't be for it even after the Eastern Arkansas Senator put Amendment No. 3 on that would have made the law apply to real property that was appraised at $1,000 or more. I feared that every county would have its key speculators that would "stand in" with the big boys and who knows—their covetous designs might some day be cast toward my little cottage—none can get so high but what he naps tall.

I have voted for every appropriation designed to promote the education of our children. Being a member of a healing profession I have long felt that suffering humanity should have every aid science has to offer. I took a leading part in promoting legislation that is making Arkansas Medical School merit such appraisal as one noted medical educator accorded recently when he stated that "Arkansas now has one of the outstanding medical schools in the western world." V-P Nominee, Nixon, Visits Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Republican Vice-Presidential Nominee Richard Nixon today termed the South "a vast territory for votes and said the GOP would make a serious effort to gain support in that section that it became necessary for the Supreme Court to redistrict the State. When the State is redivided the terms of the recently elected senators are literally "cut off." This happened in seventeen (17) of Arkansas' thirty-five (35) State Senators. I have voted for every appropriation designed to promote the education of our children. Being a member of a healing profession I have long felt that suffering humanity should have every aid science has to offer. I took a leading part in promoting legislation that is making Arkansas Medical School merit such appraisal as one noted medical educator accorded recently when he stated that "Arkansas now has one of the outstanding medical schools in the western world." And I cannot keep from pointing with pride to the bill that I introduced and pressed to enactment that authorized the creation of the School of Pharmacy by the University of Arkansas.

It has been my privilege to work in behalf of the citizenry in securing the $100,000 appropriations for building the third district live stock exhibition buildings. All this in addition to the annual permanent funds for each of our counties running into many thousands of dollars.

Many Hempstead County citizens will remember that a twenty year battle was waged for a National Guard Army at the county. It was only after holding up the military dept. appropriation bill that I was able to obtain a written promise from the Adjutant General that when fulfilled built for us the Army at a cost far above $100,000.

I sponsored an amendment to a house bill that gives the Hope City Council power to use in various ways funds collected by the parties matters for the benefit of the motorists. This law gave the council power to repave the streets of Hope—surely no one will complain of our newly repaved streets. I believe we should stick to the principle of the fathers of our country and keep the Legislative branch separate and apart from the Executive branch. I was greatly disappointed when I read that the Associated Press classified me as an in-competent. That is a great am mindful of the fact that many of you have said "I thought in voters just recently elected you, and by an overwhelming majority." So an explanation seems in order. I was overwhelmingly elected for a second term but soon after my election the new Federal aid figures were announced and it was discovered that Southwest Arkansas had lost so much in population that it became necessary for the Supreme Court to redistrict the State. When the State is redivided the terms of the recently elected senators are literally "cut off." This happened to seventeen (17) of Arkansas' thirty-five (35) State Senators. But Crow happened to be the only one in this part of the State that suffered this "cut off." In fact every neighboring Senator got to re-elect for the term for which he was elected. Yes a double race is expensive but it is a man's duty to do it. I have been elected to the Arkansas Senate long enough to get enough seniority to make the voice of the citizens of our part of the State heard. In preparing myself to render the most valuable service within my power I pursued the study of law, obtained the LL.B. degree from the University of Missouri, St. Louis, and the State Bar of Missouri. I now hold some of the most important committee appointments. Such as Chairman of the Temperance Committee, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to liquor is considered. Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Practice of Medicine, by which all proposed legislation pertaining to the practice of the healing professions, dentistry, optometry, chiropody, barbers, beauty culture, Veterinary Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and the drug business is considered. Member of the committee on Forestry, Mines and Mining, State Charitable Institutions, a Judiciary Committee, one of the Senate's most important Committees, one that only licensed lawyers may serve on. And the Constitutional Amendment Committee—considered by many as the most coveted committee appointment.

The largest business in Arkansas is the State of Arkansas. Millions of dollars are collected and spent by the State. In advocating economy instead of increasing tax as I have found myself in the minority many times but I refuse to become discouraged. While opposing such tax increases as the sales tax and working with other big figures I have never lost sight of the needs of the ordinary, the blind, and the poor. I have tried to keep my feet on the ground and to keep a day welfare check. That is the reason I just couldn't vote for the bill that would have placed a lien on the property owned now or hereafter by the poor and the needy. I couldn't be for it even after the Eastern Arkansas Senator put Amendment No. 3 on that would have made the law apply to real property that was appraised at $1,000 or more. I feared the appraisers and land and house speculators would watch with joy and glee when an old fellow took to his death bed. I feared that every county would have its key speculators that would "stand in" with the big boys and who knows—their covetous designs might some day be cast toward my little cottage—none can get so high but what he naps tall.

I have voted for every appropriation designed to promote the education of our children. Being a member of a healing profession I have long felt that suffering humanity should have every aid science has to offer. I took a leading part in promoting legislation that is making Arkansas' Medical School merit such appraisal as one noted medical educator accorded recently when he stated that "Arkansas now has one of the outstanding medical schools in the western world." V-P Nominee, Nixon, Visits Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Republican Vice-Presidential Nominee Richard Nixon today termed the South "a vast territory for votes and said the GOP would make a serious effort to gain support in that section that it became necessary for the Supreme Court to redistrict the State. When the State is redivided the terms of the recently elected senators are literally "cut off." This happened to seventeen (17) of Arkansas' thirty-five (35) State Senators. But Crow happened to be the only one in this part of the State that suffered this "cut off." In fact every neighboring Senator got to re-elect for the term for which he was elected. Final Rites for Senator Held Today

NORWALK, Conn. (UP)—Sen. Brian McMahon, architect of the nation's atomic energy program, was buried today beside his father's grave in St. Mary's cemetery.

The body of the 48-year-old chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee was taken to the family plot following double funeral services at the home of his brother and St. Thomas of the Apostles Church.

Vice President Allen Barkley, a close personal friend of McMahon, headed a large congressional delegation which attended the final rites.

President Truman was represented by Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin.

Religious ceremonies were performed by Francis Cardinal Spellman, Bishop of New York, and Henry J. O'Brien of the Hartford Roman Catholic diocese and the Rev. Henry E. Flannigan, pastor of the church.

Hundreds of persons from all walks of life said goodbye to McMahon, a native of this town, who died of cancer Monday in Georgetown University hospital in Washington.

Friends said McMahon apparently never knew he had cancer, the disease he hoped that atomic energy would some day cure. His condition at first was described as a "benign condition," believed caused when he "reached" for a ball while playing tennis.

Death came to the senator shortly after he watched the Democratic National Convention on television from his hospital bed. He saw his fellow Connecticut senator, Benton, make what appeared to be a nominating speech for him. However, Benton withdrew McMahon's name at his request, at the end of the heart-stirring speech.

DOROTHY DIX

Find Your Own Friends

Dear Miss Dix: I have an older sister who is 16. It was 14. She is very popular and when any thing goes on in town, she is included. I am not! I'm considered "too young," but actually I feel more like 18 than 14. I look older, too. I have a very nice boy friend who is 18, and when he was here everyone paid more attention to me. Now, however, he is in Korea and I am again left out of everything.

E. G. F.

Answer: Where are all the young stars your own age? There's no need for you to go tagging after old stars and trying to crash her dates. Make some of your own, and get into activities with your own gang. Two years seems like a very short time, but when it's the difference between age 18 and age 16, it is not. You are not in another generation — or, so the 16-year-olds think. Try looking at it from another angle. Pick out some 12-year-old of your acquaintance. If she were your sister, would you want her around at all your expeditions? Of course not; you'd be horrified at the idea of having such a child tag along. Your sister is entitled to her own friends, although it would be very nice if she invited you to her gatherings occasionally. For the most part, however, your friends should be of your age and school grade, not your sister's.

Saucers or Something Seen at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — "A white ball of fire with a red tail," that was the description given by the Hot Springs Sentinel Herald last night by two excited citizens who claimed they saw a "flying saucer" over the resort city.

The newspaper also had reports from four other residents that they objects were skimming through the sky about 9 p. m. All reports reached the newspaper office within two minutes.

G. Clark, a hotel clerk, and Dan Ruzick, both gave identical descriptions of the "flying saucer." Clark said the "saucer" was flying north from south-southwest. Ruzick said the object remained within his vision for about ten minutes and then disappeared into the north.

A third witness, Bill Beard, said he was sitting on a bench at about 8:30 p. m. and saw a bright object in the sky. He said it was a saucer-shaped object, and it was moving very fast. He said it was a saucer-shaped object, and it was moving very fast. He said it was a saucer-shaped object, and it was moving very fast.

McMath Calls Bishop Deal All a Hoax

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. McMath, who says his runoff campaign against Chancellor Francis Cherry is going to be a real battle, already is slaying.

In a hard-hitting speech than any he made prior to Tuesday's Democratic preferential primary, Bishop said it was not true that the governor last night charged that "fraudulent" special interests were using "fifth, lies and malice" to use "propaganda" against him; that report of the real facts and this report should be made immediately and not held until after the election on Aug. 12. If the allegations are true, and if it is not, they should be returned immediately. If they are not true, a full and complete exposure of this hoax should be revealed to the public.

"The fight during the next two weeks will not be easy," the governor said in his 15-minute address over a statewide radio network of 37 stations last night. "The money and the pressure will be tremendous. We shall face all the weight and resources that certain special interest groups have gathered together, pooled their influence and backed it with their checkbooks. These interests are ruthless."

He urged that the 230,000 qualified voters who did not cast ballots in the preferential primary vote "for progress" in the Aug. 12 runoff.

U. S. Buying Much Equipment in Europe

REIDELBERG, Germany — The United States Army has placed orders for 400 million dollars worth of equipment from European manufacturers in the past fiscal year and will turn over 341 million dollars worth of these purchases to NATO armies, it was announced today.

The army said its huge buying program included 97 million dollars worth of European-produced ammunition and vehicles.

Cabbie Turns Joke Into Reward Money

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI) — A cabbie who just laughed when one of his fares proudly announced he had committed a $20,000 bank robbery today got the credit for the gunman's capture.

While FBI agents and police searched for the person — who robbed an American Trust Company branch bank here Monday — taxi driver Anthony Gellini stroked his chin and smiled.

An hour later, police arrested Charles Frederick Will, a free-spirited 38-year-old draftsman, and Sidney Dubowy, 33, a student accountant.

It was the climax to a 24-hour spree which began when Will held up the bank in broad daylight. He later hired Gellini to drive him and Dubowy to Reno for a round of gambling and drinking.

Gellini ended the whole fantastic affair by making off with a lion's share of the loot in Reno and speeding back to San Francisco with police hot on his heels.

He later hired Gellini to drive him and Dubowy to Reno for a round of gambling and drinking.

Steel Wage Price Hike Will Fan Out

NEW YORK — The wage-price hike in steel — if it follows past patterns — will in time fan out to many other industries. A new twist to the inflationary spiral will be the steel wage hike.

But many feel today that the ultimate blow to the general cost of living will be delayed this time, and also lessened down.

They reason that the loss of buying power felt by nearly two million workers who were made idle at one time or another during the strike will act as a brake on inflation. In other words, a lot of people will be out of the market for goods for a while yet, because they are short of cash.

They also believe that this steel wage hike will continue for some time. Many factories may have to shut down later this summer as the steel shortage catches up with them and their inventories of steel disappear.

The government is going to take more steel for defense and the steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well into 1953.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, many trade in picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods if they make them.

Mississippi Politics Stormy

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi's stormy political parties, split into five different camps, are preparing for the state Democratic convention in Jackson Aug. 18.

Both parties have been plagued with disunity all year. The state capital, Jackson, was the scene of five different state conventions this summer instead of the usual two.

Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lamkin of Tupelo, who says Mississippi has been in a state of anarchy since a battle at Chicago but not John S. Gibson long ago.

Find Your Own Friends

Dear Miss Dix: I have an older sister who is 16. I am 14. She is very popular and when anything goes on in town, she is included. I am not! I'm considered "too young," but actually I feel more like 18 than 14. I look older, too. I have a very nice boy friend who is 16, and when he was here everyone paid more attention to me. Now, however, he is in Korea and I am again left out of everything.

E. G. F.

Answer: Where are all the young stars your own age? There's no need for you to go tagging after old stars and trying to crash her dates. Make some of your own, and get into activities with your own gang. Two years seems like a very short time, but when it's the difference between age 16 and age 14, it is not. You are not in another generation — or, so the 16-year-olds think. Try looking at it from another angle. Pick out some 12-year-old of your acquaintance. If she were your sister, would you want her around at all your expeditions? Of course not; you'd be horrified at the idea of having such a child tag along. Your sister is entitled to her own friends, although it would be very nice if she invited you to her gatherings occasionally. For the most part, however, your friends should be of your age and school grade, not your sister's.

Saucers or Something Seen at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — "A white ball of fire with a red tail," that was the description given by the Hot Springs Sentinel Herald last night by two excited citizens who claimed they saw a "flying saucer" over the resort city.

The newspaper also had reports from four other residents that they objects were skimming through the sky about 9 p. m. All reports reached the newspaper office within two minutes.

G. Clark, a hotel clerk, and Dan Ruzick, both gave identical descriptions of the "flying saucer." Clark said the "saucer" was flying north from south-southwest. Ruzick said the object remained within his vision for about ten minutes and then disappeared into the north.

A third witness, Bill Beard, said he was sitting on a bench at about 8:30 p. m. and saw a bright object in the sky. He said it was a saucer-shaped object, and it was moving very fast. McMath Calls Bishop Deal All a Hoax

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. McMath, who says his runoff campaign against Chancellor Francis Cherry is going to be a real battle, already is slaying.

In a harder hitting speech than any he made prior to Tuesday's Democratic preferential primary, Bishop said it was not true that the governor last night charged that "fraudulent" special interests were using "fifth, lies and malice" to use "propaganda" against him.

led voters who did not cast ballots in the preferential primary vote "for progress" in the Aug. 12 runoff.

"I'm not feeling," Will bellowed.

"Ya, you and your brother," Gellini answered.

The persistent bellowing, giving the cable directions, set out to prove he had pulled the robbery and took Gellini on a tour of bars here. Will insisted on buying "drinks for the house."

Later they picked up Dubowy and Will ordered the taxi driver to head for Reno.

On the way, as they listened to radio broadcasts about the robbery, Gellini said Will whipped out a briefcase full of money and said, "You didn't think I could do it, did you?"

"It was easy," Will said. "Just like in the movies."

In Reno, Will and Dubowy took part of the money and went into a gambling house, but left the remaining $7,000 in the cab trunk.

As soon as they were out of sight, Gellini sped back to San Francisco, returned the money to police and told his story.

Will and Dubowy hopped a plane and returned here last night, only to be nabbed by police as soon as they hit town.

Will, arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Francis St. J. Fox, was charged with taking money by "force, violence and intimidation."

He pleaded guilty, and was sent to county jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Dubowy, charged with carrying stolen money over the state line, pleaded innocent.

"I just held up a bank," Will told Gellini as he crawled into the cell.

U. S. Buying Much Equipment in Europe

REIDELBERG, Germany — The United States Army has placed orders for 400 million dollars worth of equipment from European manufacturers in the past fiscal year and will turn over 341 million dollars worth of these purchases to NATO armies, it was announced today.

The army said its huge buying program included 97 million dollars worth of European-produced ammunition and vehicles.

Steel Wage Price Hike Will Fan Out

NEW YORK — The wage-price hike in steel — if it follows past patterns — will in time fan out to many other industries. A new twist to the inflationary spiral will be the result.

But many feel today that the ultimate blow to the general cost of living will be delayed this time, and also lessened down.

They reason that the loss of buying power felt by nearly two million workers who were made idle at one time or another during the strike will act as a brake on inflation. In other words, a lot of people will be out of the market for goods for a while yet, because they are short of cash.

They also believe that this steel wage price hike will have no effect on the steel industry's cost of production. Many factories may have to shut down later this summer as the steel shortage catches up with them and their inventories of steel disappear.

The government is going to take more steel for defense and the steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well into 1953.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, many trade in picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods if they make them.

Mississippi Politics Stormy

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi's stormy political parties, split into five different camps, are before the national conventions, are putting apart again, shaping one of the wildest struggles in state history.

The Democrats showed signs of developing a rupture because some want the party to endorse Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Republican nominee, and some want to support Gov. Adam Stevens, son of Illinois, Democratic candidate for the long strike.

The inflationary pressure will be felt for a while yet, because the steel workers are getting the most of the steel shortage.

The steel price hike will not have many steel customers. The steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well into 1953.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, many trade in picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods if they make them.

Saucers or Something Seen at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 1.—

A white ball of fire with a red tail,
 "That was the description given cord last night by two excited citizens who claimed they saw a "flymained within his vision for about

 he was sitting on a bench at about 8:30 p. m. and saw the object in the sky. He said it was a white ball of fire with a red tail, and it disappeared to the north.

Three other persons who witnessed the space object told the newspaper they did not care to give their names.

Please, Sign Names
 Dear Miss Dix: In writing to you it is necessary to sign my name? M. R.

Answer: It is very impolite to refuse to sign any letter, whether to me or anyone else. As I remind my readers quite often, real names are never used in letters that appear in the column, but it is nice to know who sent them.
 Furthermore, sometimes a problem arises that cannot be answered here, and if I know the sender's name and address, I can reply more clearly than I can at present. Please sign your name and address.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a fairly intelligent young man of 28, in love with a young woman who seems to take a special delight in breaking me. At first I decided this was a sign of love and was willing to endure it in the hope that things might turn out better. Unfortunately, they have got worse and she treats me like a discarded shoe. I know she is interested in me but a relationship like this doesn't appeal to me.

Answer: Your young lady is trying to impress you with her superiority by being most challenging and unusual. By belittling you, she concludes that she is automatically elevating herself in your eyes, as well as in her own.
 This condition definitely will not improve, but will become more serious with marriage. Need I say more?

Dear Miss Dix: At 20, I am a high-school senior, and have become very interested in one of my pupils—a boy of 16. He comes to see me every day, and he gets so interested in me that he is almost always in my classroom. I am very much interested in him, but I am not sure if I should go on with this. It is interesting to me, but I am not sure if I should go on with this. It is interesting to me, but I am not sure if I should go on with this.

Answer: You are doing a most foolish thing, both from your own standpoint and from the boy's.
 No 16-year-old boy could be seriously interested in a woman almost twice his age. His feelings toward you are simply a form of adolescent crush and will investigate. Better treat it in the same way. If knowledge of your attachment reaches the wrong quarters, it might mean the loss of your job.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been going with a new boy but my mother does not approve of him as she claims he drinks too much.
 Actually, he doesn't take more than four or five drinks when he is with me. Because my father was a heavy drinker, mother has the same idea about any man who takes a drink.

Answer: Haven't you sense enough to profit from experience—even on if the experience is that of someone else? Your mother is absolutely correct in her warnings. Four or five drinks is much too much for a young man to take, in fact, even one drink can often be too much. If you don't want to store up misery for yourself, follow your mother's advice and let the young man go.

Dear Miss Dix: Since my mother-in-law died six months ago, my husband, who is in his forties, has been so grief-stricken that he is losing interest in his own home and family. I've never seen a situation like this before. He is acting almost childishly, and doesn't want to have any pleasure in the house at all. He feels it's being disloyal to his mother's memory.

Answer: While grief over a parent's death is certainly understandable, your husband's attitude seems to verge on a guilt complex. Does he feel that perhaps he didn't do enough for his wife while she was alive? If he continues as he is now, he may become mentally ill, and I strongly advise you to have him see either a trusted physician or a minister. Either one could perhaps help him get his mind and heart back to normal and that is apparently due more to his mother's death than to the loss of his wife.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 1.—Mississippi's stormy political parties, split into five different camps before the national conventions, are now splitting apart again, shaping one of the widest struggles in state history.

The Democrats showed signs of developing a rupture because some want the party to endorse Gov. Dwight Eisenhower, Republican nominee, and some want to support Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Democratic candi-

Long the strike,
 the inflationary pressure will be felt for a while yet, because the steelworkers are getting an incentive to other union workers to ask for more. Many union contracts can be reopened for wage negotiations in the next few

Cabbie Turns Joke Into Reward Money

By CARL BELL

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI)—A cabbie who just laughed when one of his fares proudly announced he had committed a $20,000 bank robbery today got the credit for the gunman's capture.

While FBI agents and police searched for the person—who robbed an American Trust Com-many branch here Monday—taxi driver Anthony Gellini strolled into the Hall of Justice yesterday with $17,000 of the loot.

An hour later, police arrested
 Charles Frederick Will, a free-spirited 38-year-old draftsman, and Sidney Duboway, 33, a student accountant.

It was the climax to a 24-hour spree which began when Will held up the bank in broad daylight.
 He later hired Gellini to drive him and Duboway to Reno for a round of gambling and drinking.

Gellini ended the whole fantastic affair by making off with a lion's share of the loot in Reno and speeding back to San Francisco with the money and well into police with it.

40-year-old cabbie told his story. He picked up the pair in Will at his home here yesterday.
 24 hours after the bank had been robbed.

"I just held up a bank," Will told Gellini as he crawled into the cab.

"Good for you," Gellini said he answered. "More power to you.
 But don't tell me your troubles."
 "I'm not feeling," Will barked.
 "Ya, you and your brother,"
 Gellini answered.

The persistent bandit, giving the cabbie directions, set out to prove he had pulled the robbery and took Gellini on a tour of bars here. Will insisted on buying "drinks for the house."

Later they picked up Duboway and Will ordered the taxi driver to head for Reno.

On the way, as they listened to radio broadcasts about the robbery, Gellini said Will whipped out a briefcase full of money and said
 "You didn't think I could do it, did you?"

"It was easy," Will said. "Just like in the movies."
 In Reno, Will and Duboway took part of the money and went into a gambling house, but left the remaining $7,000 in the cab trunk.

As soon as they were out of sight, Gellini sped back to San Francisco, returned the money to police and told his story.

Will and Duboway hopped a plane and returned here too, only to be nabbed by police as soon as they hit town.

Will, arraigned before U. S.
 Commissioner Francis St. J. Fox, was charged with taking money by "force, violence and intimidation."
 He pleaded guilty, and was sent to county jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Duboway, charged with carrying stolen money over the state line, pleaded innocent.

"I only carried $100 given to me,"
 he said.

STEEL WAGE PRICE HIKE WILL FAN OUT

By SAM DAWSON

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 1.—Missis-
 sippi's stormy political parties,
 split into five different camps before the national conventions, are now splitting apart again, shaping one
 of the widest struggles in state
 history.

The Democrats showed signs of developing a rupture because some want the party to endorse Gov. Dwight Eisenhower, Republican nominee, and some
 want to support Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Democratic candidate.

Long the strike,
 the inflationary pressure will be
 felt for a while yet, because the steelworkers are getting
 an incentive to other union
 workers to ask for more. Many union
 contracts can be reopened for wage negotiations in the next few weeks.

The steel price hike will not leave many steel customers who are not willing to pay more.
 The steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well above cost.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, new trade is picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods
 if they make them.

Find Your Own Friends

Dear Miss Dix: I have an older sister who is 16. I am 14. She is very popular and when anything goes on in town, she is included. I am not! I'm considered "too young," but actually I feel more like 18 than 14. I look older, too. I have a very nice boy friend who is 18, and when he was here everyone paid more attention to me. Now, however, he is in Korea and I am again left out of everything.

E. G. F.

Answer: Where are all the young stars your own age? There's no need for you to go tagging after old stars and trying to crash her dates. Make some of your own, and get into activities with your own gang. Two years seems like a very short time, but when it's the difference between age 18 and age 14, it is not. You are not in another generation — or, so the 14-year-olds think. Try looking at it from another angle. Pick out some 12-year-old of your acquaintance. If she were your sister, would you want her around at all your expeditions? Of course not; you'd be horrified at the idea of having such a child tag along. Your sister is entitled to her own friends, although it would be very nice if she invited you to her gatherings occasionally. For the most part, however, your friends should be of your age and school grade, not your sister's.

Saucers or Something Seen at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — "A white ball of fire with a red tail," that was the description given by the Hot Springs Sentinel Herald last night by two excited citizens who claimed they saw a "flying saucer" over the resort city.

The newspaper also had reports from four other residents that they objects were skimming through the sky about 9 p. m. All reports reached the newspaper office within two minutes.

G. Clark, a hotel clerk, and Dan Ruzicka, both gave identical descriptions of the "flying saucer." Clark said the "saucer" was flying north from south-southwest. Ruzicka said the object remained within his vision for about ten minutes and then disappeared into the north.

A third witness, Bill Beard, said he observed it flying at about 800 feet and appeared to be either a jet plane or a guided missile. He said it was moving very fast and was seen by him and several other persons who witnessed the space object told the newspaper. He did not care to give their names.

McMath Calls Bishop Deal All a Hoax

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. McMath, who says his runoff campaign against Chancellor Francis Cherry is going to be a real battle, already is slaying.

In a harder hitting speech than any he made prior to Tuesday's Democratic preferential primary, Bishop said it was not true that the governor last night charged that "fraudulent" special interests were using "fifth, lies and malice" to use "propaganda" against him; that report of the real facts and

this report should be made immediately and not held until after the election on Aug. 12. If the allegations are true, and if it is not, they should be returned immediately. If they are not true, a full and complete exposure of this hoax should be revealed to the public.

"The fight during the next two weeks will not be easy," the governor said in his 15-minute address over a statewide radio network of 37 stations last night. "The money and the pressure will be tremendous. We shall face all the weight and resources that certain special interest groups have gathered together, pooled their influence and backed it with their checkbooks. These interests are ruthless."

He urged that the 230,000 qualified voters who did not cast ballots in the preferential primary vote "for progress" in the Aug. 12 runoff.

U. S. Buying Much Equipment in Europe

REIDELBERG, Germany — The United States Army has placed orders for 400 million dollars worth of equipment from European manufacturers in the past fiscal year and will turn over 341 million dollars worth of these purchases to NATO armies, it was announced today.

The army said its huge buying program included 97 million dollars worth of European-produced ammunition and vehicles.

Cabbie Turns Joke Into Reward Money

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI) — A cabbie who just laughed when one of his fares proudly announced he had committed a $20,000 bank robbery today got the credit for the gunman's capture.

While FBI agents and police searched for the person — who robbed an American Trust Company branch here Monday — taxi driver Anthony Gellini stroked his chin and said yesterday.

An hour later, police arrested Charles Frederick Will, a free-spirited 38-year-old draftsman, and Sidney Dubowy, 33, a student accountant.

It was the climax to a 24-hour spree which began when Will held up the bank in broad daylight. He later hired Gellini to drive him and Dubowy to Reno for a round of gambling and drinking.

Gellini ended the whole fantastic affair by making off with a lion's share of the loot in Reno and speeding back to San Francisco with police hot on his heels.

Steel Wage Price Hike Will Fan Out

NEW YORK — The wage-price hike in steel, if it follows past patterns — will in time fan out to many other industries. A new twist to the inflationary spiral will be the steel wage price hike.

But many feel today that the ultimate blow to the general cost of living will be delayed this time, and also based down.

They reason that the loss of buying power felt by nearly two million workers who were made idle at one time or another during the strike will act as a brake on inflation. In other words, a lot of people will be out of the market for goods for a while yet, because they are short of cash.

They also believe that this steel wage price hike will have no effect on the steel industry's cost of production. Many factories may have to shut down later this summer as the steel shortage catches up with them and their inventories of steel disappear.

The government is going to take more steel for defense and the steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well into 1953.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, new trade is picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods if they make them.

Mississippi Politics Stormy

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi's stormy political parties, split into five different camps, are preparing for the state Democratic convention in Jackson Aug. 18.

Both parties have been plagued with disunity all year. The state capital, Jackson, was the scene of five different state conventions this summer instead of the usual two.

Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lamkin of Tupelo, who says Mississippi has been in a state of anarchy since a battle at Chicago but not John S. Gibson long ago.

An hour later, police arrested Charles Frederick Will, a free-spirited 38-year-old draftsman, and Sidney Dubowy, 33, a student accountant.

It was the climax to a 24-hour spree which began when Will held up the bank in broad daylight. He later hired Gellini to drive him and Dubowy to Reno for a round of gambling and drinking.

Gellini ended the whole fantastic affair by making off with a lion's share of the loot in Reno and speeding back to San Francisco with police hot on his heels.

Steel Wage Price Hike Will Fan Out

NEW YORK — The wage-price hike in steel — if it follows past patterns — will in time fan out to many other industries. A new twist to the inflationary spiral will be the steel wage hike.

But many feel today that the ultimate blow to the general cost of living will be delayed this time, and also lessened down.

They reason that the loss of buying power felt by nearly two million workers who were made idle at one time or another during the strike will act as a brake on inflation. In other words, a lot of people will be out of the market for goods for a while yet, because they are short of cash.

They also believe that this steel wage hike will continue for some time. Many factories may have to shut down later this summer as the steel shortage catches up with them and their inventories of steel disappear.

The government is going to take more steel for defense and the steel mills feel confident they can sell all they can make well into 1953.

Their customer share used up their inventories and are eager to buy. Also, new trade is picking up, and manufacturers see a better chance of selling more goods if they make them.

Mississippi Politics Stormy

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi's stormy political parties, split into five different camps, are preparing for the state Democratic convention in Jackson Aug. 18.

Both parties have been plagued with disunity all year. The state capital, Jackson, was the scene of five different state conventions this summer instead of the usual two.

Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lamkin of Tupelo, who says Mississippi has been in a state of anarchy since a battle at Chicago but not John S. Gibson long ago.

Giants Will Be Glad to See Irvin

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Monte Irvin, announced his return to the Yankees today, saying he would play for the 1952 season tomorrow night when the New York Yankees engage the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In making the announcement, manager Leo Durocher said he was glad to see Irvin's return to the Yankees.

"What are you going to do with a guy like that?" asked Durocher. "I'll let him pitch right away. Since I let him pitch last Sunday and he came through with a 1-0 victory over the Pirates, I'll let him pitch every day. Any other guy would have been out for a full year with what he had, and maybe forever. But here it is, only three months later, and he's ready to go."

"What can I do? I've got to let him pitch. So he goes Friday."

It was on April 2 that Irvin suffered a multiple fracture of his right ankle while sliding into third base in an exhibition game in Denver. At the time they disappeared of Monte's playing career next season.

"I feel fast," said the undisciplined Irvin as he lay in a hospital bed with his encephalogram supported by pulleys. "I got good."

All-American top prize of $3,420, they'll be swinging even harder for the $25,000 first, $12,000 second, and $5,000 third "world" prizes.

In the All-American amateur division are 20 contenders, headed by defending champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, while 24 girls enter the 11 pros, will shoot for the All-American women's open crown vacated by ailing Babe Zaharias. The winning female prize collects $3,000.

Promoter May has rounded up a field he deems complete without the presence of Ben Hogan and British Open champ, Bobby Locke.

May, in effect, told Hogan and Locke to stay away when they looked for superannuated money in the All-American, but it's possible, when the links start purring again, and victories for the big "world" dough, Locke and Hogan will be in the thick of the fray.

Cary Middlecott, 1952's leading money-winner with $13,500, is defending All-American champion. He won last year with 274, topping it's par by 14 strokes.

The Memphis dentist will find the competition thick and heavy from such contenders as U. S. Open champion Julius Boros, PGA Little 200 Turnesa, Masters winner Sam Snead, and Western Open king Lloyd Mangrum, twice an All-American winner.

Bessie, Thomas said the win boosted the visitors' morale. The visitors threatened several times but couldn't score a run until the fourth inning.

Edsel Nix gave up only seven hits, walked one and struck out five. Hope made three errors.

of fun."

The sources of both reports declined to be quoted by name. The report that Barkley planned to take life easy came from a friend here.

The Cincinnati Times-Star quoted an associate of the vice president as saying Barkley might be interested in writing a book, under Stevenson, but also was interested in "coming attorney."

Vote-Getters Choice of Both Conventions

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two political conventions of 1952 will be analyzed and interpreted for years, helped by leaks on what happened behind closed doors. That's the opinion.

But, although there were some subtle and some not-so-subtle struggles in Chicago, everything that happened there was secondary to the main point which already is clear enough:

The overwhelming desire of both parties to win the November elections. This meant subordinating everything else to the selection of the two men who looked like the best vote-getters.

The Democrats' choice of Gov. Stevenson was a little more complex than the selection of Gen. Eisenhower by the Republicans.

With his immense prestige and reputation for leadership, Eisenhower had demonstrated his popularity over Sen. Taft in the preferential primaries and the public opinion polls.

Stevenson displayed his voter appeal in the only political campaign he ever made: when he won the governorship of Illinois by the biggest majority in the state's history.

Still up to the time of the Democratic convention, the general public outside Illinois knew far less about Stevenson than about Sen. Kefauver who had been in the public eye since his crime investigation, campaigned hard for the nomination, and proven his ability to capture votes.

But Kefauver had two strikes on him from the beginning: he was General.

Gov. Stevenson told a news conference in Springfield, Ill., yesterday he has no idea about his cabinet and will say nothing until after the election.

polism to the Democratic bosses in the big cities where he held his crime quiz; he was disliked in the South, outside his own Tennessee, for his steady support of President Truman's policies.

Nevertheless, the Democratic politicians couldn't ignore two facts about Kefauver: (1) he had made his reputation on his crime investigation and (2) because of that, was supported by a lot of people who looked to him, if he was elected, to clean up Washington.

So the Democratic politicians had a problem: If Kefauver was unacceptable to the South and the city bosses, in this year when every vote is needed, where then find a man who might not only get votes, but still convince people he, too, could be a cleaner-upper?

Stevenson was a natural. Nobody was mad at him. He had proven himself a phenomenal vote-getter (at least in Illinois) and he was credited with cleaning up a good part of the mess left by the Illinois state Republican machine which he succeeded.

The selection of Stevenson was only part of the twisting and turning the Democrats had to do to keep the party from flying apart. For example, the struggle and compromises over the loyalty pledge and civil rights.

But when the convention ended the Democratic party was still intact, which it would have to be if it hoped to win at all this year, and with a candidate who seemed best able to get the most votes.

Stevenson Fears Foolish Promises

By CHARLES WHALEN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic party's presidential candidate, believes that "foolish promises" of substantial federal tax cuts can be "very misleading."

Stevenson told a news conference yesterday that everybody wants a reduction in taxes but it must be obtained at the earliest opportunity "consistent with our needs."

He was asked by the newsmen concerning Dwight D. Eisenhower's remarks recently about reducing federal taxes, and replied:

"I would hope that neither candidate or party would offer hopes that are forlorn and at the same time be demanding a defense establishment to accomplish our common objective."

Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, had envisioned a 40 billion dollar yearly federal spending cut, but he did not specify any date for the goal.

Stevenson said he regarded foreign policy as the "most important consideration" of the coming political campaign. He added that he supposes his views and those of Eisenhower on this subject will turn out to be similar.

He said he no longer is a reluctant candidate for president and is "quite content with the Chicago Democratic convention and its results."

Asked if he could make a "give-and-take" campaign, the governor replied he doesn't believe he's gifted with "a sense of that kind." But he said "everything's possible."

Some Facts About Life in Russia

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP)—Most Russian families own livestock of their own.

While the growth of urban population in the USSR in the last three decades has been tremendous, the majority of Soviet families still live in rural or suburban surroundings where they have a plot of land for vegetable gardens and orchards—and for livestock. This is true not only of the collective farmers, but also of the majority of other families both in rural areas and in semi-urbanized territory.

In such circumstances almost all families keep their own chickens. Fed with scraps from the kitchen, and allowed to feed for themselves about the yard during the day to feed on what they find, they are an economical way of furnishing eggs and poultry meat for the family.

Most families in addition keep at least one milk goat, easy to care for. During the summer it can be pastured in the yard or on vacant small plots of grass land. During the winter it can be supported on relatively small amounts of hay and other fodder. One good goat will keep a family supplied with milk. In addition it bears a new kid each year which usually fattens during the summer and in the autumn is slaughtered to replenish the family meat supply.

Most families also keep a pig. In the spring a piglet is purchased. Hens during the summer and fall and is slaughtered when the weather is cold enough to assure preservation of the meat.

At a disadvantage in the business of livestock ownership are the apartment dwellers in cities and towns. However, the government has devised a means by which they also can share in the benefits of small-scale livestock ownership.

The trade unions in many enterprises sponsor livestock clubs. These provide collective ownership in livestock. The members furnish a share of the capital, take on themselves a share of the work involved and share in the results when slaughtering is carried out, or in the constant production of milk and eggs.

It has been estimated that the European corn borer destroyed about 35 million bushels of corn in the United States in 1951.
